

PLR Flipping Generators and Idea Generators

Gift from: <http://www.theplrstore.com>

Sorry, but I have to get the lawyer talk of the way first. These checklists and guides may be given away freely, as long as they are NOT CHANGED. Nothing in them can be modified. They can be sold, but I would prefer they be made available for free to any one and every one. You are welcome to use them as a bonus to another product or an enticement to join your list. Expand the value of your website or blog by posting them for your readers or send them out to your list, they'll find them useful and thank you.

As I said, all I ask is that you do not change them or pawn them off as your own.

If you have any suggestions of something you think could be added to improve them, by all means, let me know ☺

What it's all about...

While these guides, idea generators and flip guides are pretty much self-explanatory, I thought I'd write up a little something to give you some thoughts on how to use them.

All this could be done in your head, but that doesn't always work for everyone, or worst yet, they forget those bright ideas that might be lost forever. I've done it myself plenty of times. Best to get them all down on paper while you still remember.

These could even be used to detail future projects, again, so great ideas are not lost for good.

PLR Article and Ebook Flipping Guides

The basic idea is to generate ideas on either flipping PLR content into another, new product or a different format. For example, a Ebook about Internet Marketing could be turned in to as Ebook such as, "Internet Marketing for Chiropractors". Think you get the idea. Want even more ideas? Grab the phone book and flip through the yellow pages.

PLR Article Title Generator

Use this worksheet to turn one article into several different articles, or even just to give some variation if you're submitting your articles around the net. Think you get how to make them work for you.

I've also included some hot words, words that get attention; some call them hot buttons, to inspire you when creating new titles. So print off what you need, grab a pen or pencil and get to making some money!

Let me know...

If you found these guides and check lists useful, let me know! I'd love to hear how they have helped you.
